ABOUT ME

A fashion storyteller, textile alchemist, and sustainability enthusiast. In the final year of my Master's in Fashion & Textiles, I weave tradition with modernity, crafting designs that speak. Passionate about eco-friendly materials and upcycling, I believe fashion should be art with a purpose.

ACADEMIC PROJECTS

Volunteer

India Design

17 Feb - 23 Feb 2025

Developed hands-on experience in material experimentation, technical execution, cross-cultural collaboration, exhibition presentation, networking, and storytelling by assisting French designer MARISOL SANTANA in creating and showcasing a Thar Desert-inspired lamp installation.

Weaving

3 Weeks

Explored the fusion of art and fashion by translating bold colors and patterns from Christina Fornarelli's paintings and Anamika Khanna's designs into woven textile swatches, enhancing skills in color analysis, textile experimentation, and concept development.

Enchanted Earth

1 Week

Designed a detailed co-ord set inspired by an abandoned temple, translating architectural forms, textures, and colors into garment construction, enhancing skills in concept-driven fashion design, structural experimentation, and storytelling through textiles.
