Summary

I'm a designer who believes in using creativity to solve problems and share knowledge. So asking myself "What is the greater purpose of design than to impact humans around us?" Has been a constant motivator to try and learn more.

I'm a hardworking and adaptable person who enjoys working with diversity, weather it's a person or a project. I'm committed to pushing my creative boundaries to enhance my skills and gain fresh perspectives.

I believe making small changes is the key to creating a significant impact; it all begins with trying.
